Beca Rita Cetina 2025 – Educational Support Program in Mexico

The Beca Rita Cetina is a federal educational-support program in Mexico, aimed at ensuring children and adolescents in public basic-education schools don't drop out because of financial constraints. It falls under the umbrella of the Becas para el Bienestar family of programs. Named in honour of Rita Cetina Gutiérrez (1846-1908), a pioneering educator and feminist from Yucatán who worked to expand women's educational opportunities in the 19th century.

This scholarship program was created to support low-income families whose children attend public schools. The purpose is to reduce school dropout rates and encourage continuity in education across the country. The scholarship is delivered every two months through Banco del Bienestar, offering predictable financial aid for families.

As of 2025, the support amount is 1,900 MXN bimonthly per family with at least one student in public secondary school, plus 700 MXN extra for each additional student in the same level. The program will soon expand to include primary and preschool students as well. Payments are temporarily paused during the July–August vacation period each year.

Families can apply by registering on the official government portal, uploading necessary documentation such as CURP, proof of enrollment, and proof of address. Once verified, beneficiaries receive their payment card. To track your application or payment, you can visit the official link for Beca Rita Cetina.

The Beca Rita Cetina program represents a major effort to promote equality and opportunity in education. It recognizes the legacy of Rita Cetina Gutiérrez — a teacher, writer, and feminist pioneer — by extending her vision of accessible education for all Mexican youth.

Overall, this initiative continues to strengthen the educational foundation of Mexico, empowering families to prioritize learning and long-term development through consistent, transparent financial support.
